Expert Automation with Integrity

SwiftCount by AIS

Product Description

SwiftCount revolutionizes warehouse operations by offering seamless speed and precision through its intuitive Mobile and Web interfaces. This innovative solution significantly reduces processing time for orders items, enabling users to transition from minutes to mere seconds. By expediting information collection, enhancing accuracy, and reducing labor costs, SwiftCount optimizes efficiency throughout the entire company's operational framework.

SwiftCount is a cloud-based inventory management solution designed to cater to the requirements of small to midsized businesses across various industries. Its comprehensive feature set includes robust product management, efficient inventory receiving, seamless movement and shipping, and accurate counting with support for multiple locations.

With SwiftCount, users gain the ability to effortlessly manage a dynamically updated product database across multiple devices. This ensures real-time tracking on on-hand quantities, UPC codes, and units of measure. Additionally, users can create and assign concurrent counts based on user roles, categories, and specific locations. The system accommodates an unlimited number of locations for assigning products, providing flexibility for businesses with diverse warehousing setups. SwiftCount also offers the convenience of automatically recurring counts at predefined intervals. Users can easily perform transfers, look up product information, and locate items within their warehouse, streamlining internal processes and improving overall productivity.
