

SwiftCount by AIS

Product Description

SwiftCount improves speed and accuracy in warehouses quickly and easily with Mobile and Web interfaces. You can go from minutes to seconds when processing items for orders. By collecting information faster, improving accuracy, and lowering labor costs, SwiftCount provides greater efficiency across a company's entire operation.

SwiftCount is a cloud-based inventory management solution suitable for small to midsize businesses in a variety of industries. Key features include product management, inventory receiving, moving, shipping, counting with multiple location support.

SwiftCount enables users to manage a product database that is kept up to date across multiple devices and keeps track of on-hand quantities, UPC codes and units of measure. Users can create and assign concurrent counts by user, category and location. The system is able to assign products to an unlimited number of locations. Counts can be set to recur automatically at predetermined intervals.

Users can transfer, lookup and find where products are within an establishment.
